

Essential Support for Five Decades

As leaders of children during their most formative years, heads of elementary/middle schools bear the weight and responsibility of creating an engaging educational environment that sparks curiosity and ignites lifelong learners.

ESHA is the only national organization of pre-K-8 leaders, created by Heads for Heads.

ESHA understands the many hats a Head of School wears, from program development to daily operations, because everyone in our organizations wears them too. Members of ESHA gain access to a network of like-minded peers to turn to for ideas, wisdom, and support. By combining our collective pre-K-8 experiences, we work together to tackle challenges, find solutions, and share resources.
